MISSOURI YOUNG MEN

There is no need for the youth of the state to go outside her borders for employment which will bring fortune, fame and happiness. Missouri needs all her young men. To the ambitious youth this state boasts important advantages. There is small prejudice against the young man because of his youth and every position of political and business influence in the commonwealth is open to him.

Upon the farm, in the workshop, at the bar, in the pulpit, in the sanctum, at the teacher's desk, in business or professional life, everywhere Missouri's young men are gaining the foremost places and securing coveted laurels. Kansas City is a town of young men. In the staid metropolis of St. Louis young blood is leading. All over the state "the enterprises of great pith and moment" are pushed to success by the earnest labors of young Missourians.

Stay in Missouri, young man. It is the idler's cry that there is too much crowding and competition here and no room is left for those who wish to work and rise. The statement is false. There is room and urgent need for young men of clear heads and clean lives, energetic, ambitious, anxious to do something for the world and for themselves. Such young men should not worry about lack of appreciation, of probability of overcrowding. They need not have showy talents. Dazzle is of small account in this practical age. Blue blood is essential. A smooth tongue and fine clothes are unnecessary. But a young man who is willing to work, who will labor early and late, who studies and thoroughly equips himself is in demand in every town and every county in the state.

Missouri is a poor place for loafers and sluggards and for people who want to live by their wits, without honest toil, but for the young man who meets the requirements which success demands in every region of the world Missouri is a most inviting field. Let him not go into strange lands, but let him win his spurs at home.

Stay in Missouri, young men, and grow up with the country.

LAW BULLETINS RECEIVED

Contain Two Important Articles Written by M. U. Law Professor.

The University Publisher has just received from the printer copies of a law bulletin containing two articles, both of especial significance at this time, according to members of the faculty of the School of Law.

The first article, "The Proposed Regulation of Missouri Procedure By Rules of Court," is of importance because it deals with a question that will come up for action at a meeting of the Missouri Bar Association at St. Louis on September 25.

The second article in the booklet, "Certiorari from the Missouri Supreme Court to the Court of Appeals," is of significance because more work is done at the first meeting of the Courts of Appeals in the fall than at any other session.

CALLAWAY WANTS A CREAMERY

But the County Has Too Few Cows, Say Investigators.

Dr. D. F. Luckey, state veterinarian, J. Kelly Wright and Secretary Jewell Mayes of the State Board of Agriculture, returned Saturday night from a dairy conference at Fulton, Mo., where a movement has been started to establish a creamery. The number of dairy cows in the community seems too small for a plant at this time, but dairy sentiment is growing in Callaway County. Secretary Mayes reports.

About 33 years ago what is claimed to have been the first dairy institute in Missouri was held at Fulton. This pioneer dairy conference also was one of the first held in the United States, as Missouri began work for dairy improvement at an early date.

WOULD WALK TO ST. LOUIS

Four Columbia Women May Hike 154 Miles If Weather Permits.

If the weather permits, three Columbia women and one from St. Louis will "hike" from Columbia to St. Louis, about 154 miles, starting Monday or Tuesday.

The three women are Mrs. R. M. Goldsberry, Mrs. F. H. Rowland, Mrs. J. M. Rowland and Mrs. J. F. Whitesides. None have ever done long distance hiking before. The flag for long distance walking in the crowd of four goes to Mrs. F. H. Rowland, who, her mother-in-law says, "walked five miles once."

The idea originated when Mrs. F. H. Rowland was visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Rowland. The visitor was about to go home when she told her mother-in-law how much she wanted her to go to St. Louis, and then suggested that they walk. It was a contagious desire and before the hour hand had "hiked" a round trip, four had formed the party and begun to make preparations.

They are now waiting for their khaki suits. They will buy food and lodging along the way.

"Of course we won't walk it in two days," Mrs. J. M. Rowland said today. "It will take at least a week. If we get tired we can get the train."

DEMOCRATS OPEN CAMPAIGN

Political Drive On West Will Start in Missouri Next Week.

By United Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The Democratic drive on the west begins next week within the unloading of heavy artillery in Missouri.

It was asserted today at western Democratic headquarters that the following speakers would tour the west, beginning next week: Senators Underwood, Reed, Stone, Hoke Smith, Robinson, James Hamilton Lewis and Judge Albert D. Norton, William Jennings Bryan and a score of others. Not a single state in the west will be overlooked. Particular attention will be paid to Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Senator Reed of Missouri will start a stumping tour of his own state in Kansas City.

WILL INVESTIGATE MILK COST

National Officials Will Confer With Milk Producers.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A National probe into the cost of producing milk and the justification for the threatened rise in price was yesterday announced by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The first formal action will be taken tomorrow, when milk producers from several eastern states will confer with department officials.

TO SEND SEED TO CHINA

American Colonizer Asks Boy Scouts to Gather Crop.

Joe Bailey, American colonizer in China, has asked the Columbia Boy Scouts to gather tree seeds and send them to China for the Chinese people to plant. Mr. Bailey and his staff are trying to get trees to grow in certain sections of China which have never been planted.

This work will be handled through the foreign department of Montgomery Ward & Co., of Chicago, who will pay express charges. The Scouts will do the work on their Saturday hikes, Prof. O. R. Johnson, Scout Master, said.

Mr. Bailey suggested that the Scouts put their names in the packages of seed, so they may learn what success comes from the planting. The Chinese, like all other people, want novelty. They probably have seeds at home as good or better than the seeds they will get from America, but they won't work with them. They will give great care to trees sprouting from American seeds, Professor Johnson said.

TO HARVEST SOY BEANS

C. A. Helm and J. B. Smith Conduct Tests For State Board.

C. A. Helm and John B. Smith, of the farm crops department of the College of Agriculture, went to the F. H. Russell farm, four and a half miles west of Columbia, yesterday to look after a soy bean test being made by the College of Agriculture in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

The test is for the purpose of finding out the best date and method of planting. Mr. Helm and Mr. Smith will take notes this afternoon and will harvest half of each plot for storage. Several weeks later the remainder of the beans will be harvested for seed.
